SPEAKER

CARLOTTA LANIER
Colorado REALTOR® with
Broker Guild Real Estate

Carlotta Walls LaNier is a civil rights pioneer, author, and longtime Colorado real estate professional. At just 14, she was the youngest member of the historic Little Rock Nine and became the first Black female graduate of Little Rock Central High School. A recipient of the Congressional Gold Medal and inductee into the National Women's Hall of Fame, Carlotta has spent more than 55 years in real estate while continuing to inspire generations through her story of courage, resilience, and determination.

SESSION INFORMATION

Join SMDRA for an extraordinary Black History Month Power Lunch featuring Carlotta Walls LaNier, civil rights pioneer, member of the historic Little Rock Nine, and longtime Colorado REALTOR®. At just 14 years old, Carlotta helped change the course of American history as one of nine students who integrated Little Rock Central High School. Hear her remarkable story of courage, perseverance, and breaking barriers, and discover how her journey from the front lines of the Civil Rights Movement to a successful career in real estate continues to inspire generations.
