BUYER/SELLER MEDIATION & ARBITRATION

A Program Designed to Assist in Real Estate Transaction Disputes

The SMDRA Real Estate Program has been designed to implement the mediation clause presently in Colorado real estate contracts to provide a solution for disputes between buyer and sellers. This program is not intended to replace the REALTOR® Professional Standards Program, which addresses disputes between REALTORS® or REALTORS® and their clients or customers, but is an option for those disputes which are not covered under mandatory or voluntary arbitration. What situations are appropriate for this buyer/seller dispute mediation program? Mediation can be helpful in resolving almost any dispute arising out of a real estate transaction, including:

- Disputes over earnest money deposits
- Condition of property and repair conflicts

ETHICS & ARBITRATION

REALTORS® are different from other real estate licensees in that they voluntarily pledge to abide by a strict code of professional conduct above and beyond the licensing laws of the state. This conduct is outlined in the National Association of REALTORS® Code of Ethics. If you feel like any part of the Code has been violated by a REALTOR®, you are entitled to file a complaint. The REALTORS® Code of Ethics is comprised of seventeen Articles. The Articles are explained through accompanying Standards of Practice. Follow the QR Code of complete details and filing information.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY & INCLUSION RESOURCES

Achieving Diversity and Inclusion Together

SMDRA is committed to Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Fair Housing as core values that guide everything we do. We believe that seeking knowledge and fostering meaningful conversations — through a variety of perspectives and resources — helps us learn from the past, address today's challenges, and create solutions for the future. As part of this commitment, all REALTORS® must now complete the NAR Fair Housing Requirement, ensuring that every member upholds the highest standards of equity in housing.

FIND
RESOURCES

SMDRA provides resources, training, and tools to help members meet this requirement and integrate Fair Housing principles into daily business practices. Explore our Actionable Roadmap for Local Association Diversity & Inclusion, access Fair Housing materials, and learn about available grants to support these initiatives. We've also gathered articles, websites, and educational content from across the country to share with our members. Keep checking back for updates as our library of resources continues to grow and the conversation moves forward.

POLITICAL ADVOCACY

Advocacy is Vital to the Success of Your Business

Even if you don't have the time to track all of the action at City Hall, the State Legislature, Congress, or the many regulatory agencies, be assured that we do. SMDRA works to monitor legislative policy at the local, state, and national level to ensure pro-homeownership and private property rights and a pro-real estate business environment. REALTOR® Associations accomplish these goals through strong correspondence with legislators and politicians, candidate interview programs, and through the efforts of the REALTOR® Political Action Committee.

DID YOU KNOW...

During COVID-19 Pandemic your business was deemed 'essential' due to advocacy efforts.

RPAC & REALTORS have always championed the right to deduct mortgage interest on your personal taxes, solidly keeping in place one of the biggest financial incentives to owning a home.

RPAC works to maintain our members' Independent Contractor status, maintaining the unique relationship between brokers and agents as acutely different than an employer/employee relationship.

RPAC and our members have always been strong and leading advocates for Fair Housing. In 1959, CAR was instrumental in helping to pass the Colorado Fair Housing Act. We believe in housing opportunities for all, and RPAC works to ensure good policies are created at all levels of government

~These are just a few examples of the MANY things your RPAC investment has achieved.~

SMDRA LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

Become a Future Leader in Your Industry!

The SMDRA Leadership Academy is designed to – Help attendees gain a better understanding of all three levels of the REALTOR® Organization and increase participation at all levels. Increase knowledge of our community involvement with local and state governments. Teach participants basic leadership skills and strengthen existing talents to foster both professional and personal development.
